The Town Administrator may also execute plats where boundary line adjustments are appropriate in that they conform to the historic usage of the property and are agreed to in writing by all parties.

i. Adjustments of interior property lines by the Town Administrator are not appropriate where new lots are created which can accommodate a new residential or commercial structure or which do not reflect the existing usage of the property.

ii. The Town Administrator may determine that the decision as to the adjustment of internal or external boundary lines should be made by the Planning Commission if the adjustment would have a significant impact on the Town or the neighborhood.

iii. The adjustment must be documented by the recordation in the appropriate office of the clerk and recorder of either a plat or deed which would reflect, by appropriate metes and bounds measurements, the nature of the adjustment.
